

Darek Saunders, Head of Sector Analytics, Frontex

Darek Saunders leads 3 teams responsible for data management, business intelligence, geospatial services and technical support within the Frontex Risk Analysis Unit. He's been the head of Sector Analytics at Frontex since 2015.

Darek draws on more than 20 years of law enforcement and military experience in national and international organisations. A graduate of the Military Academy of Technology in Warsaw, he served in the Polish Army as a commissioned officer at both Operational and Strategic levels. This was followed by an assignment in the NATO Headquarters Allied Command Operations (SHAPE). Subsequently, he joined the United Nations Security and Safety Service (SSS) in New York in 2005 to become part of the Crisis Management Unit in which he remained until 2010.

hosted by

organised by

