

Thibaud Delourme, European Commission

Thibaud Delourme is team leader for Copernicus user uptake at the European Commission, in the unit on Space Data for Societal Challenges and Growth. His team develops initiatives to increase the use of Copernicus and to foster the space economy in Europe, working with start-ups, universities and public organisations. He joined the European Commission in 2013, where he worked in the Chief Economist unit of the Directorate General for Industry and Internal Market (DG GROW).

Thibaud Delourme studied Economics at the University of Oxford.

hosted by organised by

